

February 2022
Contest: Winter Celebration

Judge: Emily Lorence, DCTC graduate, lifestyle photographer

February Photons CONTEST

Drinks around the campfire- 5

This is a very good portrait of the young lady. I do not feel that it has a "wintery" feel to it other than bundled up. Also, can't see what she is holding. My advice zooms out a little to see the campfire and mug.

Bundled up for sledding- 5.3

Very cute photo of the baby and mom. But I can't see that they are doing any winter activity and the bright sun is taking away from the image. My advice is reposition them so sun isn't glaring.

Fish on ice- 10

This photo definitely has a winter feel to it, the man grabbing the fish out of the ice. The only thing I would say is to get down lower, maybe at an angle and zoom in to get his reaction to getting the fish out of the water.

Looking for wiley coyote- 6

This is a cool photo! I like how the color pops when looking at it. However, it does seem like the person is a bit blurry. My suggestion is try and fix the blur in the person.

North shore spectacular- 9.8

I think the Northshore had an amazing element in winter and you captured it! I love to see the ice hanging down from the rocks, the fog/clouds in the background, and the sunset or sunrise. My only suggestion is trying to get more of the sun in the background.

A beautiful day to ride- 8

I love this out in the woods feel to it. The trees look like it had just snowed the night before, the rider looks like he was having fun in the woods! My suggestion is zooming in to see the rider, I would even like to see some fun action shots!

Catcicle:5.5

This cat is cute and very interesting with the frozen whiskers. However, I believe this would make a bigger impact if it was focused on the face.